Homepage SEO

Essential SEO optimizations to make your Shopify store's homepage more discoverable and engaging for your brand.

4 ITEMS

☐ Set your homepage's SEO title to start with your brand name

The main purpose of your homepage is to help your brand be found. Setting the SEO title to start with your brand name helps with this.

☐ Include your brand name and a main keyword in an above-the-fold paragraph on the homepage

You want text content on your homepage so your customers and search engines understand who you are and who you're helping.

Include at least 100-200 words of relevant content on your homepage about your shop, who you help, and how you help them. Include links in this text to 3 or more of your most important products, collections, or articles.

☐ Link to key collections from your homepage

Include links on your homepage to at least 5 of your most important collections. You can include these links in a way that fits your design – that could be as text within content, an image grid with collection names, or another format that works for your site.

Collection Page SEO

Optimizations to make your Shopify collection pages more discoverable, rankable, and engaging. Read Kai's full guide on Shopify Collection SEO.

7 ITEMS

☐ Before you start: prioritize your collections

Use Google Search Console to identify collections ranking positions 1-10 (high performers) and 11-25 (prime for optimization). Use Kai's Keyword Magic spreadsheet to find your quick-win opportunities and focus there first. Read Kai's guide on picking which collections to optimize.

☐ Write unique collection descriptions (100+ words)

The highest-impact opportunity for your collection SEO. Write unique, keyword-rich descriptions that explain what your collections contain. These help collection pages rank higher and for more keywords. Read this article on writing collection descriptions. Look at examples of collection descriptions here.

☐ Add collection-specific SEO titles

One of your best opportunities for a quick SEO win. Optimize your collection SEO titles and focus them on the relevant keywords, product types, and brands. Use search console data and Kai's keyword magic spreadsheet to focus on good keywords. Read this article on collection SEO titles and SEO.

☐ Optimize collection names (page headlines)

Review and optimize your collection names (on-page headlines). Make sure they're short, specific, and include relevant information, like the product type or brand or the main keyword you're targeting. Read this article on collection titles and SEO.

☐ Implement strategic internal linking to and from collections

Add contextual links throughout your site to collections, and link between related collections in your descriptions. This high-impact, low-effort tactic helps significantly. Read this article on internal linking.

☐ Add breadcrumb navigation to your collections

Enable breadcrumbs in your theme and have them display above the product grid on your collection pages. These show customers and search engines the current page's position in your store's hierarchy.

☐ Add FAQs to important collections

For priority collections, address common questions or objections with helpful category-specific FAQs and/or links to buying guides.

Product Page SEO

Optimizations to make your Shopify product pages more discoverable and engaging.

10 ITEMS

☐ Write unique product descriptions (200+ words)

Skip the manufacturer descriptions. Write original content that highlights unique value propositions and specific customer benefits. Use a conversational style that naturally incorporates keywords while addressing common customer questions.

☐ Include the main keyword in products' SEO titles

Structure titles to include your main product keyword plus essential attributes like brand, model, size, and color. Only the first ~60 characters of your product's SEO title will display in search engines. Learn how to see a product's SEO title in this video.

☐ Pick priority pages for SEO using Search Console data

Target your SEO efforts on pages with the most potential. Use Google Search Console to identify products ranking 1-10 (your high performers) and 11-25 (your optimization opportunities). Use Kai's Keyword Magic spreadsheet to analyze search console data and suggest 'quick win' opportunities.

☐ Include links in the product description to related products, collections, and articles

Add strategic links to relevant collections, products, or helpful articles within your product descriptions. Use natural anchor text that enhances the shopping experience.

☐ Include product specs in bullet points

Present technical specs and details in scannable bullet points alongside your narrative description. Use your industry's terminology for materials, dimensions, and compatibility to ensure clarity for your audience.

☐ Implement product structured data

Schema.org markup helps search engines display rich results featuring your reviews, prices, and more. I recommend JSON-LD for SEO for implementing structured data — it simplifies the process, ensures you include critical properties like ratings and offers, and saves you time and money compared to doing it yourself.

☐ Add customer reviews — and review schema markup

Display verified customer reviews on product pages and implement review schema markup to showcase ratings in search results.

☐ Add FAQs to your important product pages — and add FAQ structured data

For your most popular, confusing, or competitive products, add FAQ content addressing common customer questions. Implement FAQ schema markup to enhance visibility in search results.

☐ Add descriptive alt text to all images to improve accessibility

Write natural, concise alt text that clearly describes your product images for both accessibility and search engines.

☐ Add Supporting Content to your product pages

Give customers the details they need: comparison tables, compatibility guides, care instructions, or size charts. For size charts, I recommend Clean Size Charts for professional presentation.

Article & Blog Post SEO

Essential optimizations to make your educational and informational articles more discoverable in search.

9 ITEMS

☐ Target one primary keyword per article

Focus each article on a single main keyword or topic. Use related keywords naturally throughout the content, but keep your primary focus clear.

☐ Include internal links in the article content

Add contextual links to relevant products, collections, and articles within your content. This helps both customers and search engines understand your site structure.

☐ Use proper heading hierarchy (H2-H6)

Structure your content with clear headings to help readers and search engines understand your article's organization. Start with H2s for main sections.

☐ Add table of contents for longer posts

Include a table of contents for articles with multiple sections or more than 5 paragraphs. This helps readers navigate and can generate rich snippets in search.

☐ Optimize images with descriptive alt text

Add clear, descriptive alt text to all images in your posts. This improves accessibility and helps search engines understand your visual content.

☐ Write descriptive meta titles and descriptions

Create unique meta titles and descriptions that work well in both search results and social sharing. Include your target keyword and compelling copy that encourages clicks. Use featured images that look good when shared on social platforms.

☐ Implement article schema markup

Add article schema markup to your blog posts that includes author, date published/modified, and featured image details to enhance your search result appearance.

☐ Create e-commerce specific content types

Focus on content types that serve your audience: buyer's guides, product care instructions, comparison posts, and seasonal gift guides.

☐ Keep content fresh and updated

Review and update older articles regularly. Add new information, remove outdated content, and note when articles were last updated.

Technical SEO

Essential technical optimizations to improve your store's search engine visibility.

5 ITEMS

☐ Submit your sitemap to search consoles

Add and verify your site in Google Search Console and Bing Webmaster Tools, then submit your sitemap to help search engines crawl and index your content efficiently! Tip from Jen of Gigawatt Coffee Roasters!

☐ Enable automatic URL redirects

Set up 301 redirects for changed URLs to maintain SEO value and provide a seamless user experience. Check Shopify's automatic redirects are working.

☐ Set up Google Analytics 4

Install GA4 to track user behavior and marketing performance. Connect it to your Google Search Console for enhanced search insights.

☐ Set up 404 error page

Create a helpful 404 page that guides users back to important pages. Include search functionality and links to popular categories.

☐ Link to important collections in navigation

Make sure your main navigation menu includes links to your most important collection pages. This helps both customers and search engines find your key content.
